

Nobel prize and he is also called the Father of Coordination Chemistry

Postulates of Werner's Theory

- 1 In Coordination Compounds the metal or metal cation exhibits two types of valency. The primary valency is

Secondary training

1. Every teacher should be given the opportunity to attend the secondary training or subject oriented course.

2. The need of a teacher to be secondary trained is subjected to regular in-service training or subject oriented course by regular intervals.

3. The secondary training is already provided for them in their own schools and colleges.

4. The secondary training is also provided for them in their own schools and colleges.

5. The secondary training is also provided for them in their own schools and colleges.

6. The secondary training is also provided for them in their own schools and colleges.

7. The secondary training is also provided for them in their own schools and colleges.

8. The secondary training is also provided for them in their own schools and colleges.

9. The secondary training is also provided for them in their own schools and colleges.